Room Dimensions (a must!) - we don't need anything fancy, just a quick sketch of your floor plan, including any fixed obstructions such as pipe work, boilers, radiators, etc- all labelled up with dimensions (millimetres are best!)

A good tip is to start at the left hand corner of your drawing, measuring to the first fixed point (windows/doors/walls), and continuing clockwise until each window, door and wall has been measured.

If you want to get really fancy- you can include the ceiling, window and door heights.

If you have an idea of what you would like, and where you would like certain features in your kitchen- just pop it onto the sketch, if not you can leave it up to us to surprise you!

We look forward to hearing from you,

The OFSK Team
